New London History Series with Sally Ryan

New London, CT, Monday, November 5th, 2018 – Stop by the library's community room at 7pm on Mondays to learn about New London with city historian Sally Ryan, the city's first and now retired Municipal Historian. This popular series consists of multiple sessions that will each cover a different historical time period in New London. This week, the series concludes with a look at our city from the 1938 New England Hurricane until the present day.

The event is free and open to all. Registration is not required. For more information, please contact the Reference Desk at 860-447-1411 x5, or go to the library's website at www.plnl.org
